The Institute of Mathematics (Chair for Mathematics in the Sciences) at the University of Würzburg is seeking applications for a post-doctoral position as a research associate.

The salary is based on the wage agreement of the civil service in TVL (13 TVL / 100 %). The starting date is expected to be the 1st of January 2014 (or earlier depending on the administration process). The appointment is for two years with possible extension.

The candidates should have a PhD degree in mathematics or a related subject. They should show the abilities of both independent research and teaching.

The group offers an active research environment in the context of the calculus of variations and partial differential equations with applications to the natural and materials sciences.

The position also includes teaching duties of five hours per week during the terms. Adequate language skills in German and English are expected.

The University of Würzburg wishes to increase the share of women in areas where they are underrepresented, and strongly encourages women to apply. The University of Würzburg has an affirmative action policy for the disabled and especially encourages them to apply.

Please apply by sending your application by email (in a single pdf file) or by ordinary mail including a letter outlining your suitability for this position, a detailed CV with a list of publications, and names and contact information for 3 references. The deadline for application is the 15th of July 2013. Please do not hesitate to contact Ms. Weisensel (weisensel@mathematik.uni-wuerzburg.de) if you have any questions regarding this position.
