

CALL FOR APPLICATIONS FOR A TENURE-TRACK POSITION

DEPARTMENT OF MATHEMATICAL ENGINEERING

UNIVERSITY OF CHILE

Starting Date: March 1, 2014.

The Department of Mathematical Engineering (DIM) of the University of Chile is offering a tenure-track position in Mathematics, starting on March 1, 2014. Candidates should hold a Ph.D. degree at the date of appointment, and preferably not before January 2008. Applications in all areas of Mathematics are encouraged, but priority will be given to those candidates whose research is related with the mathematical areas cultivated at DIM (see the web page www.dim.uchile.cl).

Candidates are expected to present evidence of an outstanding research record and a strong commitment to excellence in teaching. Duties include a moderate teaching load of five (5) one-semester courses every two years at an undergraduate or graduate level. The official language for teaching is Spanish. Our department is committed to increasing diversity in its faculty, in particular, female candidates are encouraged to apply.

Salary depends on the qualifications of the chosen candidate. At the level of Assistant Professor, the basic remuneration is approximately US$ 75.000 (before taxes and at current exchange rate). This salary does not include potential grants or research contracts. Members of the Department of Mathematical Engineering have access to a basal annual support for their research activities, of the order of US$ 10.000, including travel expenses and research collaborations.

Applications should be submitted electronically to search.committee2013@dim.uchile.cl and consist of the following documents (in PDF):

- Curriculum Vitae, in English or Spanish;
- Research Description, in English (approximately, 3-5 pages), including a selection of the three (3) most relevant publications;
- Outline of Research Project (1-2 pages) and
- Teaching Statement (1 page).

Reception of applicants will be acknowledged by email.

Applicants should ensure that three (3) recommendation letters by senior researchers reach the committee. These letters are to be sent by e-mail to search.committee2013@dim.uchile.cl before October 31, 2013, mentioning as subject: Recommendation Letter for (name of the candidate).
